LAUNCH EVENT

A two day, author-centric event to celebrate the gift of reading in support of community-wide access to literacy resources for early learners during the critical years of brain development

Authors have a super-power for bringing people and ideas together. And the gift of their time on behalf of this very important launch, is truly something money cannot buy. But with their involvement along with the support of our community partners, we have the potential to make real and lasting impact on a future generation

THURS, SEPTEMBER 26TH 2024

Progressive Dinner with Southern Authors

Inaugural fundraising evening to establish this important effort, generating funds toward the cost of the Book Drop van, the CLS 'first book' set for a year (3600 copies) and CLS "free libraries" out in the community

- Passionate individuals will be able to purchase seating for an opportunity to directly interact with a minimum of 3 authors throughout the evening
- Corporate supporters will 'adopt' a table representing their business or entity

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 27TH 2024

Authors Morning & Networking

A rare opportunity for established authors to spend time together discussing their craft. The morning session will include a guest speaker on literacy and breakfast nibbles.

ADD-ONS AND OTHER PERKS (THURS & FRI)

Special experiences will be offered at various times across the two days and curated specifically for the authors giving their time on our behalf

- Two nights lodging in Downtown Charleston at the Dewberry Hotel
- Book Sales & Individualized In-Store Signing Opportunities with local, NYT Reporting bookseller

Experiences such as (but not limited to):

- Historic Walking Tour with Private Guide
- Sunset Boat Cruise
- Visits to Historic Museum Houses
- Private Tour of IAAM
